Perse Farmers Are Raising More Hogs Than Ever Refore-Cotton Oil Review-Trade Notes.

Office of The Post. Houston, Thursday, March 30. One of the best features in trade in Texas is the absolute stagnation in meats. A representative of one of the largest packing houses in the country remarked to a wholesale merchant that he was selling very little meat in Texas. The jobber informed him that although

The reason for this is obvious. The Texas farmer found that so long as his smoke house was in the North he kept getting deeper in debt, because his only available cash product cutton—kept on declining. The farmer at lact realized that while he was unable to raise the price of cotton he could do the next best thing—raise hogs. This he has done. Year by your the Texas planter has raised them, with the result that there are more hors in Texas than ever before, while the number continues to increase. The farmer also raises molasses these days and outs off another expense, so that even with chesp cotton he is not so badly off after all, and his condition is improving as he yearly raises mote home products which he formerly brught.

Our markets held quiet, but steady, all day, with the exception of a momentarily casiness when New Orleans' estimate for tomorrow was posted, showing nearly double the amount received on the corresponding day last year. Liverport bought freely in New York again today, while lide was reported a seller of August Some demand for spat cotion is being shown from the continent, as well as from Liverson, although the latter does not appear at all urgent. Clear and warm weather was reported over the entire belt, with probable showers in the Eastern portion tomorrow. There was little of interest in cotton, trading being generally to even up accounts over the holidays.

New York Cotton Market. New York, March 30 .- Speculation in cotton was very slack today, local traders having already evened up their accounts in antiomation of the closing of the New York exchange tomorrow and Saturday and the closnig of the Liverpool exchange tomor-Saturday and Monday. The covertop and liquidation, upon about even terms, were features of today's trading. There was very little outside interest either one way or the other after some foreign buying orders had been filled. These orders made their sprearance on the opening call, and with better English cables than had been looked for and light receipts, caused a steady opening at an advance of iff points.
